Southern Illinois University - Carbondale

Our Mission

To supplement and enrich the education of students at Southern Illinois University Carbondale by providing opportunities to develop essential career skills relevant to the Engineering, Business, and Automotive industries.

What We Do

Each year, we work to produce a highly competitive open-wheel race car for Formula SAE, an intercollegiate competition attended by teams from top universities around the world. Each vehicle is conceived, designed, and fabricated completely from scratch- all while adhering to 170 pages of technical rules. This allows us to step outside of the classroom and put our engineering education to work on a real-world project with measurable results.

Funding

We are lucky enough to receive some funding for each car through Southern Illinois University. We raise the rest on our own through the generous contributions of private donors and corporate sponsors like you. A large portion of our budget goes to competition and travel-related expenses for our team. This ensures that all our hard-working team members may participate at competition, regardless of their financial situation.

Sponsors

Sponsor Benefits

In addition to our annual competition, we appear at local car shows big and small, and accept every invitation to University events, including open houses and alumni tailgates. Each donation level below receives the benefits of all previous levels as well. We will try to accommodate any specific requests whenever possible.

As a 501(c)(3) organization, all donations are tax deductible.

Why Us?

As a comparatively small-budget FSAE team, every cent allows us to bring more educational value to our bright, determined students. A sponsorship with Saluki Formula Racing offers your company the same benefits as the large-budget teams we compete against each year, but makes a more significant difference for the students that will design and build our future.
